Off The Record

In Mt. Carmel Cemetery many years ago, a man had his leg amputated below the knee and they buried it in the children's section of the cemetery. Some time later he complained of a feeling of big black ants crawling on his limb. He asked his sister to go and ask that it be dug up. She went, but was told it was thought best to not dig it up. About 2 weeks later he was still suffering terribly from this feeling and at that time they dug up the limb and it was covered with.....big black ants!
