“FULLY ALIVE AS MISSIONARY DISCIPLES” Fiat, as you know, means “let it be done.” We have reflected on the fiat of Mary and several of the disciples, but today’s Gospel illustrates that of Jesus Himself. After an exciting day at the synagogue, where Jesus expelled a fairly nasty demon, He likely wanted a peaceful dinner and rest. Instead, He was met with Peter’s mother-in-law, who needed healing. Then came someone else and before long, the whole town was at the door seeking some sort of healing from Jesus. He didn’t get rest. He didn’t get that peaceful dinner. And He didn’t seem to care. Jesus put aside His own will to do the work of God, in spite of His human needs. When He grew weary, He retreated, prayed, and got back to work. Jesus gives us an incredible example of fiat in today’s gospel. He serves us without counting the cost. May we all do the same in turn.
